Name of the Workshop: What a Cambridge Classroom Looks Like (Virtual)
Resource Person: Mr. Tony Birch.

"Every teacher needs to improve, not because they are not good enough but because they can be even better."
An enriching and engaging workshop on What a Cambridge Classroom Looks Like was organized by Cambridge Assessment International Education on 9 November, 2023. The resource person for this interactive session was Mr. Tony Brich. He gave a beautiful insight to develop understanding of active learning, assessment for learning, metacognition and inclusion and why they are foundations of the Cambridge teaching approach. He actively involved all the present attendees in his session and made them understand the importance of active learning approach which is indispensable to be taken up for a dynamic and interactive teaching space . This session was attended by Ms. Sweetu Bhardwaj Cambridge Administrator, Ms. Deeksha Thakur Cambridge Primary, Lower Secondary and IGCSE Teacher, Ms. Mitali Kharbanda Cambridge Lower Secondary and IGCSE Teacher, Ms. Nishi Singhal Cambridge Primary Teacher, Ms. Kriti Kumari Cambridge Primary, Lower Secondary and IGCSE Teacher from our school.

The resource persons focused on Foundations for the Cambridge classroom like Active learning, Assessment for learning, Metacognition and inclusion for better classroom approaches. The participants were also involved in a fun activity in order to teach them how to create an active learning atmosphere in class in such a way that it involves all Cambridge Learners Attributes. It was indeed an enlightening session which helped keep the educators present there au courant with the best practices for a child centric classroom and giving a medium to exchange views and learn from their fellow teachers. The Great Teaching Toolkit and Active Learning Resources were also showcased during this workshop which helped teachers explore them and thus making it an even more fruitful session.
